Getting Back To Basics

Opening up the year is always a slow process for students and faculty after a fun-filled summer. Somehow, though, everyone survived it in hopes of a memorable year. There were your classes, your lunch times, your pep assemblies and your friends to look forward to.

So, as you open Yourbook and look back on our year, hopefully your memories will be happy ones.

Your Year

At the beginning of the school year the students had a hard time getting back to the regular schedules. The weather didn't help much since it remained in the upper 80's during the first week. Despite the warm weather distraction, it soon cooled off and didn't take long before your classrooms, your teachers, and your locker combinations were memorized and you were ready to challenge your new school year.

We hope that each time you read your book you remember all your parties, your unfinished homework, your friends and most of all, your great times at Coconino High School.

"too much time on my hands... too much

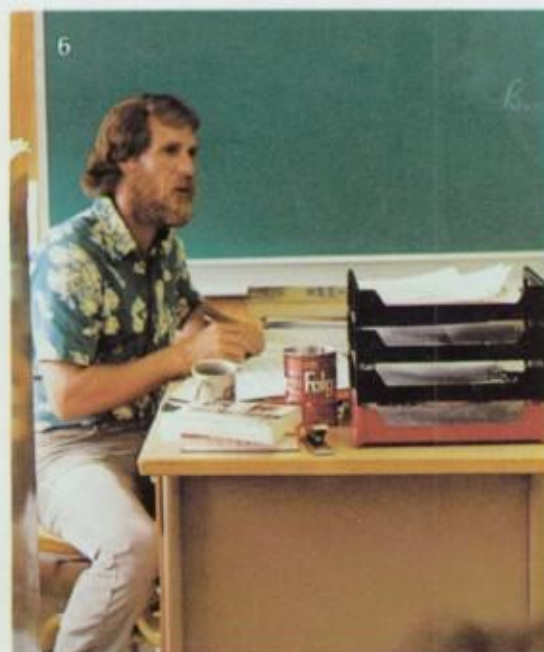

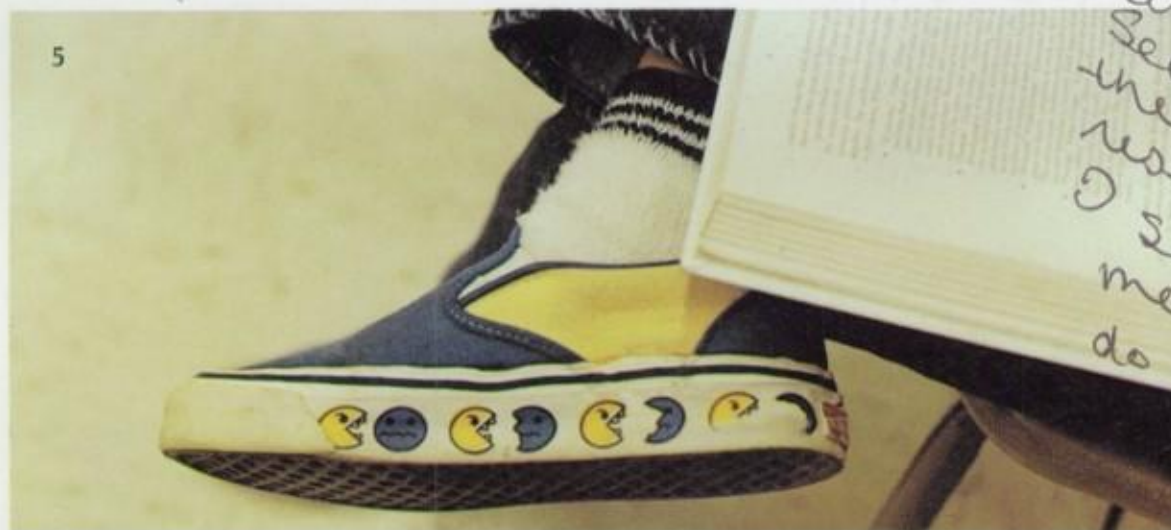

Your Own Time...

Your times were spent in different ways. There were times with your friends, during lunch, during school, at your football games, at your home, with the T.V. and just having fun. Time alone, time with your class work, time for some serious practice, time to relax and time to make time. Your own time — spent the way you wanted it and the way you'll remember it.

Sophomores Get Odd Welcome

Sophomores came to Coconino expecting a welcome — but certainly not anything like the one they received. The week of September 7-10 sophomores were dressed strangely, asked to put on humiliating acts and eat unpleasant food. This was just a little more than they bargained for. Nevertheless, your sophomore initiation was Coconino's way of saying "hi".

It wasn't hard for the photographers to catch your smile. "SMILE, you're on candid camera!" was commonly heard in the halls, and as you can judge, our models were more than cooperative.

Your Homecoming

Your Homecoming was very festive this year. Spirit week preceded the Homecoming Game. Students dressed differently every day. Western Day, Grub Day, Loggers Day, Sports Day, and School Color Day were all part of the Spirit week. Students decorated their class hall Thursday night before the pep rally. A pep assembly was held Friday during school. Your football team beat the Window Rock Scouts with the score, 50-10. The week was wrapped up by a dance where the band Trooper played.

Working Hard In Your Classes

Working hard in your classes was what some students did — others were seen just having a good time fooling their teachers into believing they “took the test last Friday.”

Also, remember when everyone in your fourth hour classroom tried to leave at first bell? But the substitute teacher realized you had only been there for forty minutes.

Don't forget your teacher who never had you turn in your fifty-point assignment.

What ever you were up to, just remember it was your year.

Panther After Hours

While your fellow classmates were gathered in the halls to leave school, others were rushing out to the parking lot to get to their cars. Your friends would go home, go to work, or just go out cruising. Still, others prepared themselves for spending a little bit more time doing other activities. Some of your friends would stay after school to get extra help in their classes, go to club meetings, or go to their athletic practices.

Student Life

Do you remember what one of your average school days consisted of? It started off when you got up in the morning to get ready to come to school. After you arrived at school, you probably roamed the halls with your friends. If you forgot to do an assignment, you would probably be found in the library. When the bell rang you had to make a quick decision about whether you would go to-day or ditch tomorrow when you had the test. When lunch time finally rolled around, you found yourself trying to decide if you were going out to eat or staying here on campus. If you stayed on campus you could choose to go to the ice cream man or go try out the salad bar in the cafeteria. After lunch you usually cruised the halls with your friends or went to bug someone in class. To some of the people, the day would drag on, but others couldn't wait to tackle the next class of the day.

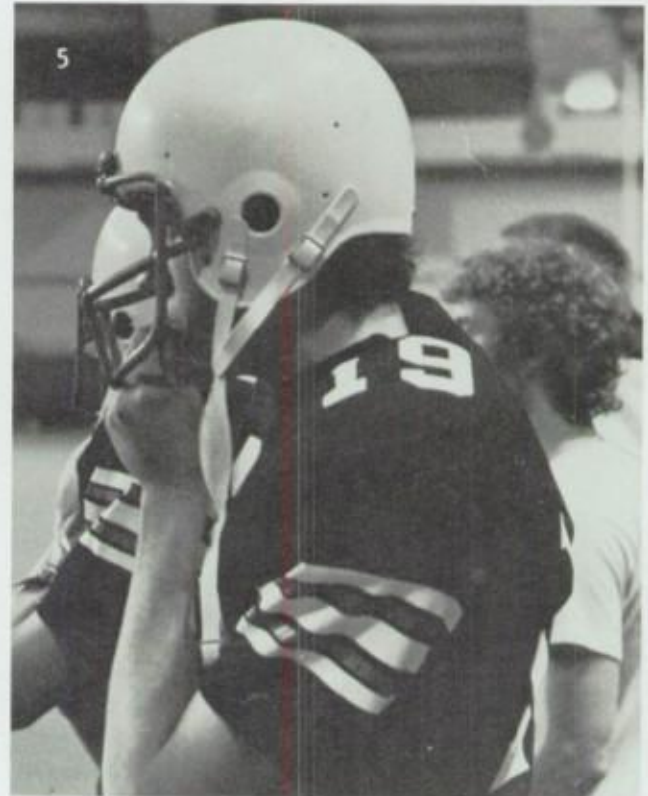

1. Peter Choi wondering if it's lunch time yet.

Student Life

About the middle of the year students start to get bored with school. To avoid getting the ho-hums, students played hacky sack in the halls before school and during both lunches. Guys whistled and watched the girls, and the girls watched the guys. The teachers got tired of correcting a hundred papers a night so they gave less homework as the year went on. The students got to know the teachers and knew how far the teachers patience went. Spring fever was bound to infect the school too.

"Thank you for being a friend" That still goes for you.
It brought us together again because we realized that we really were pals and we knew nothing could change that. You know just about everything about me and maybe more than I know maybe that why we were such good friends. You know me inside and out. That shows you care because you took the time to really find out who I was. We planned so much together and we were always through with our plans. Well I plan on being your friend forever so be prepared. Your stuck with me for life. That may not be much but I'm the best one I know and you're the best you. Here's something else to remember me by. From me to my best friend...

You're a real nice person, like everyone knows and if we don't say, I hope it still shows.

I'll be there when ever you need me both of us know that's the way it should be.
You'll always be special and we'll never part you've got me as a friend,
you'll always be in my heart

Paula

Hey there you crazy girl, well another year has come and gone and we're still together. I know there'll be more good times but I won't forget all the times we went crazy and did some thing totally nuts. You've been a real good friend and I want to thank you for that. You were always there when I needed you most, and I know you'll be there in the future just the same. It seems like we've known each other forever and a day and it's only been 16 years. You've been like a sis to me and I'll never forget that. We've been a lot to gether but not really as much as we are going to.

I also want to wish you and little Christopher the best luck in the years to come. He's a good baby but only because he takes after you. He's got a real good mommy. If you ever need me you know I'll be there to help you out in anyway I can. You've had a lot of problems with that person, I won't mention his name but I hope you know and wonder and that he isn't doing you any good (at all). Paula, you're too good of a person to be treated like you are. You deserve a lot better than that. You, me and the rest of the world knows it too. I know you can find someone to treat you good if you haven't found him already. Mervy, Mervy you. He seems like a real nice guy. I don't mean you have to marry him but if he makes you happy I wish you two the best of luck also. You're a pretty girl and your young. There's lots of time for you to really find out what you want or who you want to be care for. You've grown up a lot in these past few years and I think you know what you're doing but in case you need some help I'll be here and you know that. Do me a real big favor and don't let that.

Paula.
 I'm glad
 I had you in 2nd hour, cause if I didn't we would never have been able to talk about all the crazy things we did at T. Bell. Oh ya! hope it does to see you in the next year to talk again. See Barbara Spear

Yourbook Staff

This year's yearbook staff did a super job of putting your book together. The Yourbook Staff consisted of advertisers, photographers, and layout people. The people in the class had to work hard in order to get all of their pages done before the deadline. The advertisers went out to sell ads to businesses while the photographers took pictures of clubs and organizations for the layout people. This year's editor was Laura Casebeer. Some of her duties were to proofread copy, check layouts, and pictures. She did an excellent job of keeping everybody on their toes.

Student Council Takes Action

The purposes of the student council are to serve students and the school at large in voicing opinions and issues and to provide a variety of activities throughout the year. The twentyeight members of Student Council did many things this year. They helped with the Muscular Dystrophy Dance-a-Thon, Homecoming, Spring Bash, and special fund raising movies. They also held one dance per month. At the end of the year the members attend a state convention. The officers are Robin Heesch, President; Debbie Hernandez, Vice President; Debbie Stice, Secretary; and Colin Junkins, Social Manager.

Debaters Fish For Trophies

The Speech and Debate Team of CHS was sponsored by Mr. Julien. The twelve members met after school. The team attended the Snowflake, U of A, and Page tournaments. The team gave demonstrations for Junior High students. Two of the members of the speech team reached the semi-finals at the tournaments. The team did very well this year and showed great talent.

The National Art Honor Society had eight members this year, Miss Baker, sponsor, requires a 2.0 grade average in art to be eligible for NAHS. The purposes of NAHS are to honor and recognise outstanding art students and to promote art activities. The club attended local art shows, Youth Art Month in Phoenix, and also attended art galleries in the state. To raise money, NAHS had car washes and sold Christmas ornaments. NAHS sponsored a can food drive and gave the cans to the Salvation Army. The officers were Tanya Mount, president; Cari Martin, vice president; Mike Mahoney, secretary; and Jens Calley, treasurer.

Your journalism staff did a great job this year putting out "East Side Story". The editors were Brenda Roe, Editor-in-chief; Laura Casebeer, Editorials Editor; Lynn Perla, Sports Editor; Lona Sheldon, Features Editor; and Michelle Nation, News Editor. Mrs. Mary Nebel advised the staff to make sure all editions of the paper, special editions, programs and newsletters go out on time. The paper has had a few minor changes, two new columns, Laugh Lines by Laura Casebeer and Editor's Notebook by Brenda Roe, were added.

Coconino 1982 Marching Band

The Coconino High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Jon Eder and Mr. Jerry Korn, had many projects this year. They worked with Muscular Dystrophy and held a marching music concert. The purposes of being in band are to improve musical abilities, both individually and as a group. The band went on a tour of the Phoenix area based around the Mountain States Festival. The only changes the band has come across is increased membership and more performances. The officers are Carol Nordin, President; Leah Johnson, Secretary; Tracy Brandis, Drum Major; Darrell Denlinger, Senior Representative; Julie Simpson, Junior Representative; Leslie Tamppari Sophomore Representative.

Varsity Club

This years Varsity Club had 40 members. All of these members must have lettered in a sport in order to be in the club. Varsity Club sold Spirit Hands, popcorn at the basketball games and ice-cream. They used the money they earned to improve the weight room. Varsity Club's goals this year are to improve the school and to interact with other athletes. The clubs officers are: Herik Mandel-President, Moody Pulido-Boys Vice President, Lynn Perla-Girls Vice-President, Lisa Smith- Secretary-Treasurer and Jeff Blalock-Sergeant at Arms.

The Concert Choir did a great job this year. They had a new sponsor Mrs. Best. The 24-member choir held several concerts throughout the year.

Among other activities, the members auditioned for the Regional and All-state Choirs. This year's officers were: Karen Brooks, President; Brenda Spalt, Vice-president; Patty Edel, Secretary-treasurer; Monica VanSickle, soprano section leader; Monique VanSickle, alto section leader; Gary Morgan, tenor section leader and Matt Mickelson, bass section leader.

Madrigals Lift Voices In Song

The Coconino High Madrigal-Singers perform music from the Renaissance, Vocal Jazz, and other styles that are suitable and challenging to the group. To be a member of the madrigals, a student must pass an audition in which he or she shows ability to learn and perform difficult music. The singers attended the NAU Invitational Vocal Jazz and Madrigal Festival in February. The officers are Lisa Robbins, President; Monica Van Sickle, Vice President; and Shannon Martin, Secretary/Treasurer.

Sports

Panther football fans were treated to an exciting season of football during the Fall of 1982. Two of the most exciting games were the 22 to 0 defeat of the Flagstaff Eagles who later went on to take state and a narrow 17 to 14 loss to Flowing Wells in Mesa. The Mesa game excluded the Panthers from the final game of state play offs.

But during the regular season the panthers went 8-1 losing their first game to Snowflake, who later went on to become the class A state champs. After that the cats went on to win their next 8 games in a row, including 5 shut-outs which show how awesome the defense was. Leaders of the defense were Ryan Coons, Lanny Helberg, Jeff Blalock, Steve Owens, Moody Pulido and Mike Dolby.

The Panther offense ended the regular season being #2 in the state with total points scored. Standouts like Mark Cibik, Jay Cox and Audie McKee added much to the Panther's attack.

Panthers Lose State But Shut Out Champs

1. Coach Sutura sweeps Greg Reiff off his feet after Greg successfully intercepted a Flowing Well's pass.
2. Mark Ciblik gets down to make a successful pass completion.
3. Chad Gill, Andy Ruiz and Steve Owens lead an eager burst through into second half.
4. Panther players take the field.
5. Lanny Helberg and Jay Cox square off with Flag High players before the game.
6. Jay Cox narrowly escapes a tackle by a Flowing Well's player.

J.V. Chalks Up 6-2

"This year's J.V. football season was outstanding," stated coach Roth. The team ended their season 6-2 with two impressive wins over Flag High.

"The teams attitude this year was great, and when a team has an attitude like that, it makes the year a lot of fun and with not as many hassles," said Coach Roth. It was a great season overall. The football players of the class of '85 will contribute a lot to coming varsity seasons.

4. Aaron Windes fights for extra yardage against Kingman.

Harriers Rack Up The Miles

This year the crosscountry teams worked long and hard hours after school. They worked on their stamina and developed a good team spirit. The boys ran an average of 8 miles a day while the girls racked up about 6 miles.

The coaches of the boys and girls teams were Mr. Boehle and Miss Manton, respectively.

Mr. Boehle summed up the 1982 crosscountry season as "disappointing at first", due to a lack of returning runners, but in the long run, there was a "very good turnout" of runners that had good "potential".

Bring on the competition!

Breaking away! From who?

Christine Goldberg conquering another mile.

Hats off to the Harriers — Coach Boehle.

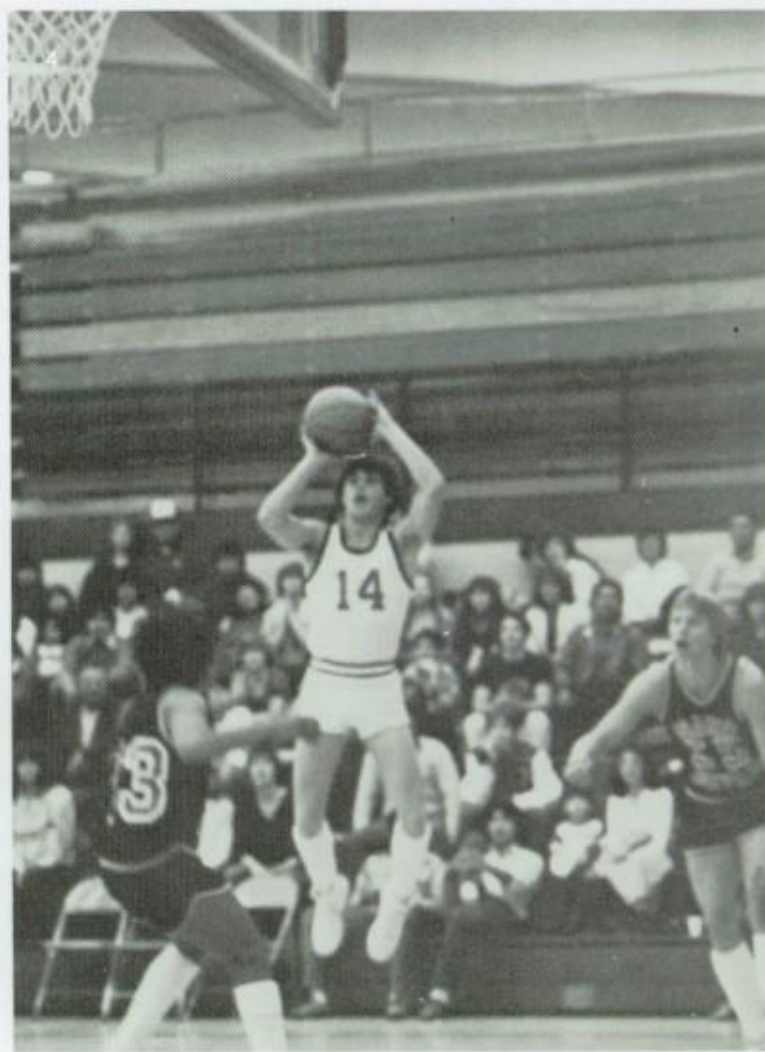

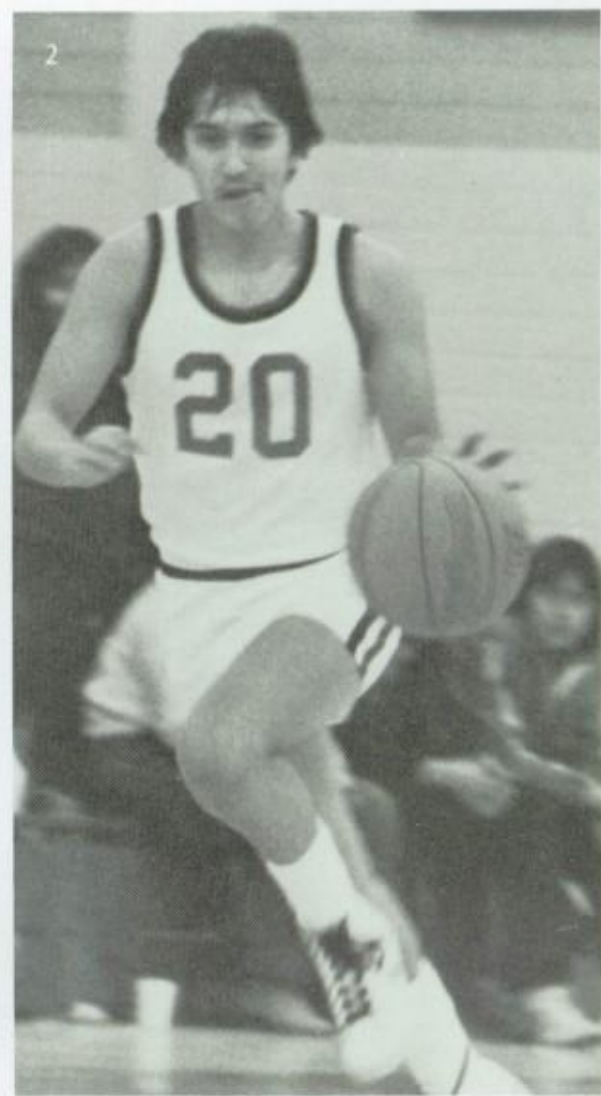

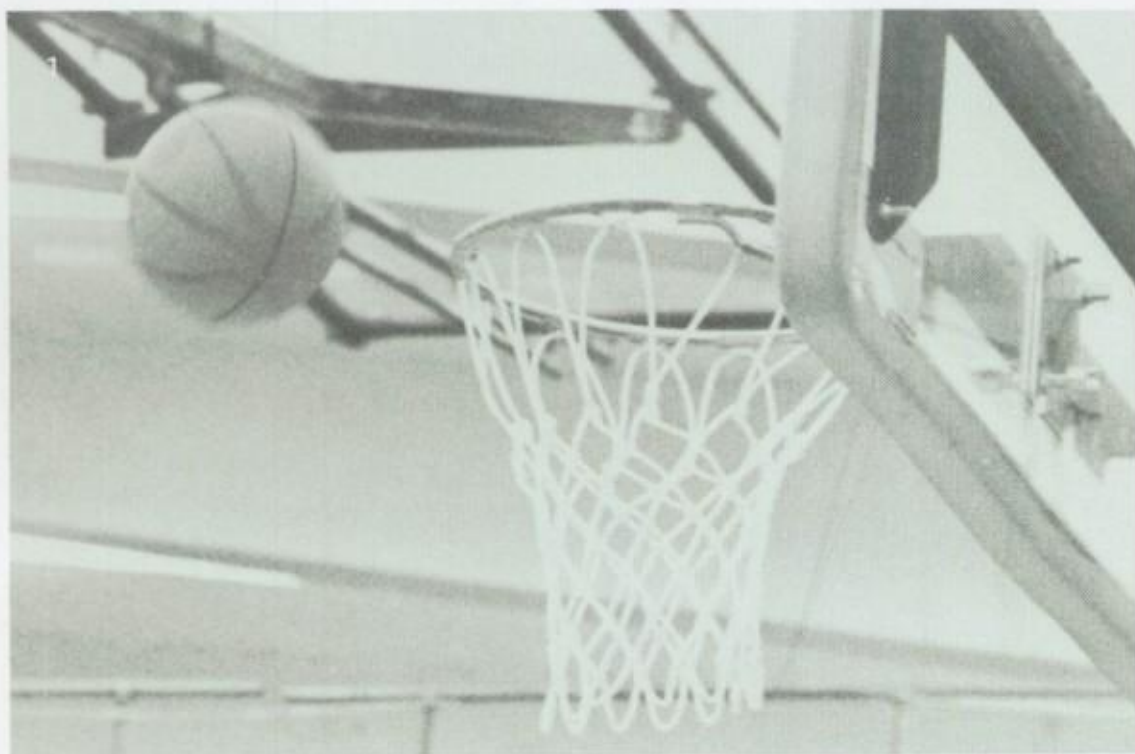

Miss Manton and Mr. Peterson running stride for stride at the Fun Run.

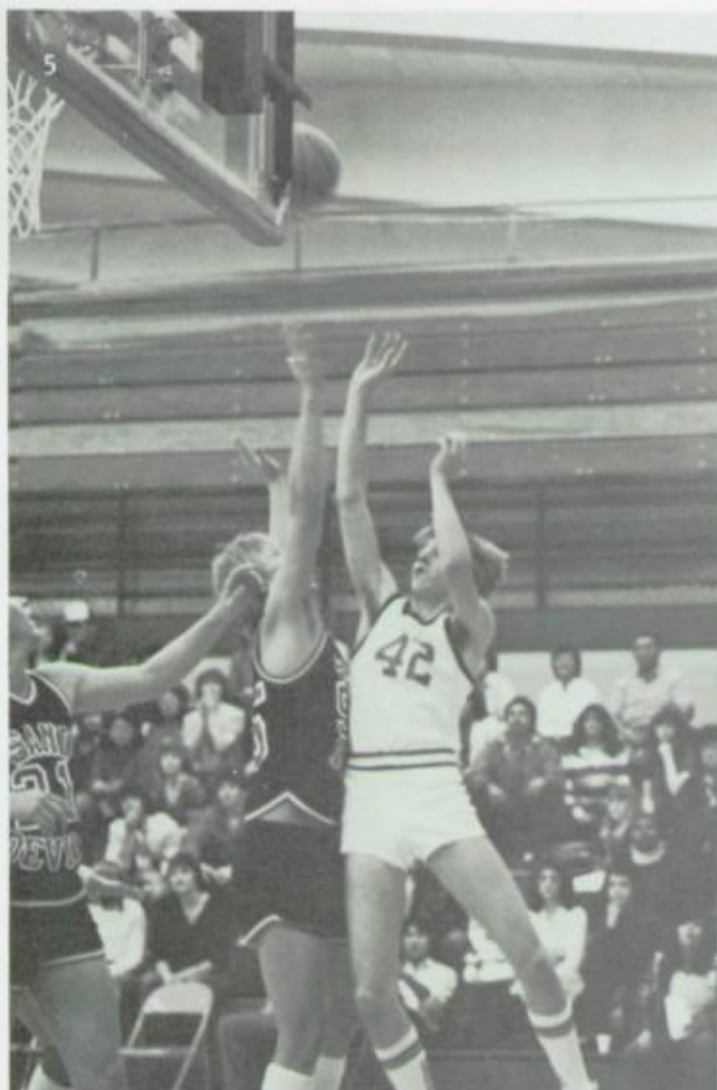

Soccer Nets Following At CHS

This year Coconino added a girl's soccer team which was coached by Mrs. Phillips. The boy's soccer team was coached by Mr. Bennett. The soccer team showed a lot of skill and ability both during games and practices. The girl's team had two matches against Orme Ranch School from Mayer, Arizona. The boys played the Orme Ranch School and Flagstaff High School teams.

Panther Basketball Shoots For The Best

2. Moody Pulido dribbles down court.
3. Jeff Blalock works for two.
4. Audie McKee sets for a shot.
5. Richard Garner works the ball in.
6. Jeff Blalock pulls down a rebound.
7. Moody Pulido shoots for two.

The 1983 Varsity basketball team had no returning starters from last year, but did fairly well with exciting wins over Williams (100-95) in double overtime.

The Panthers were led by forwards Jeff Blalock and Richard Garner. Guards Johnny Chavez and Moody Pulido and also Billy Egan supplied the team with many steals and exciting plays from their position. This years team gave the fans plenty of excitement.

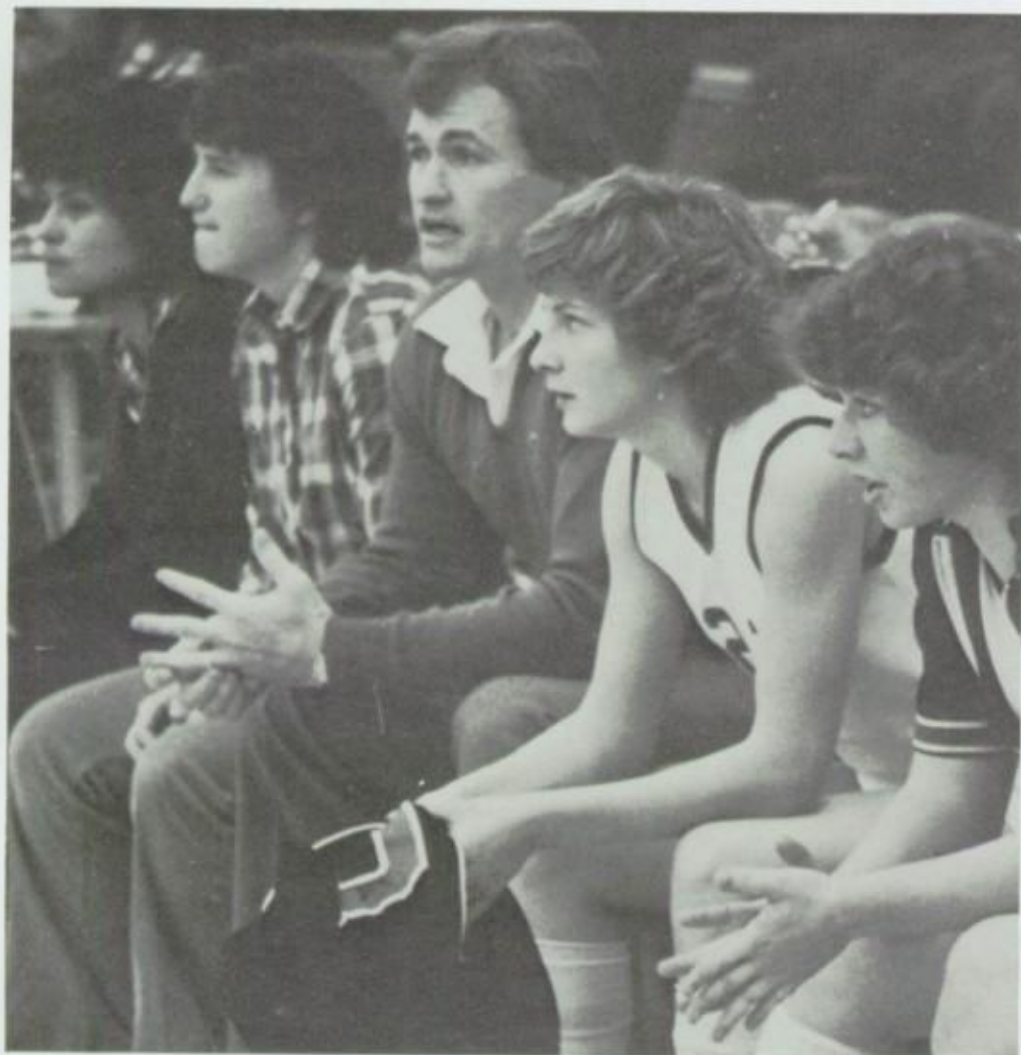

Varsity Girls Show Improved Season

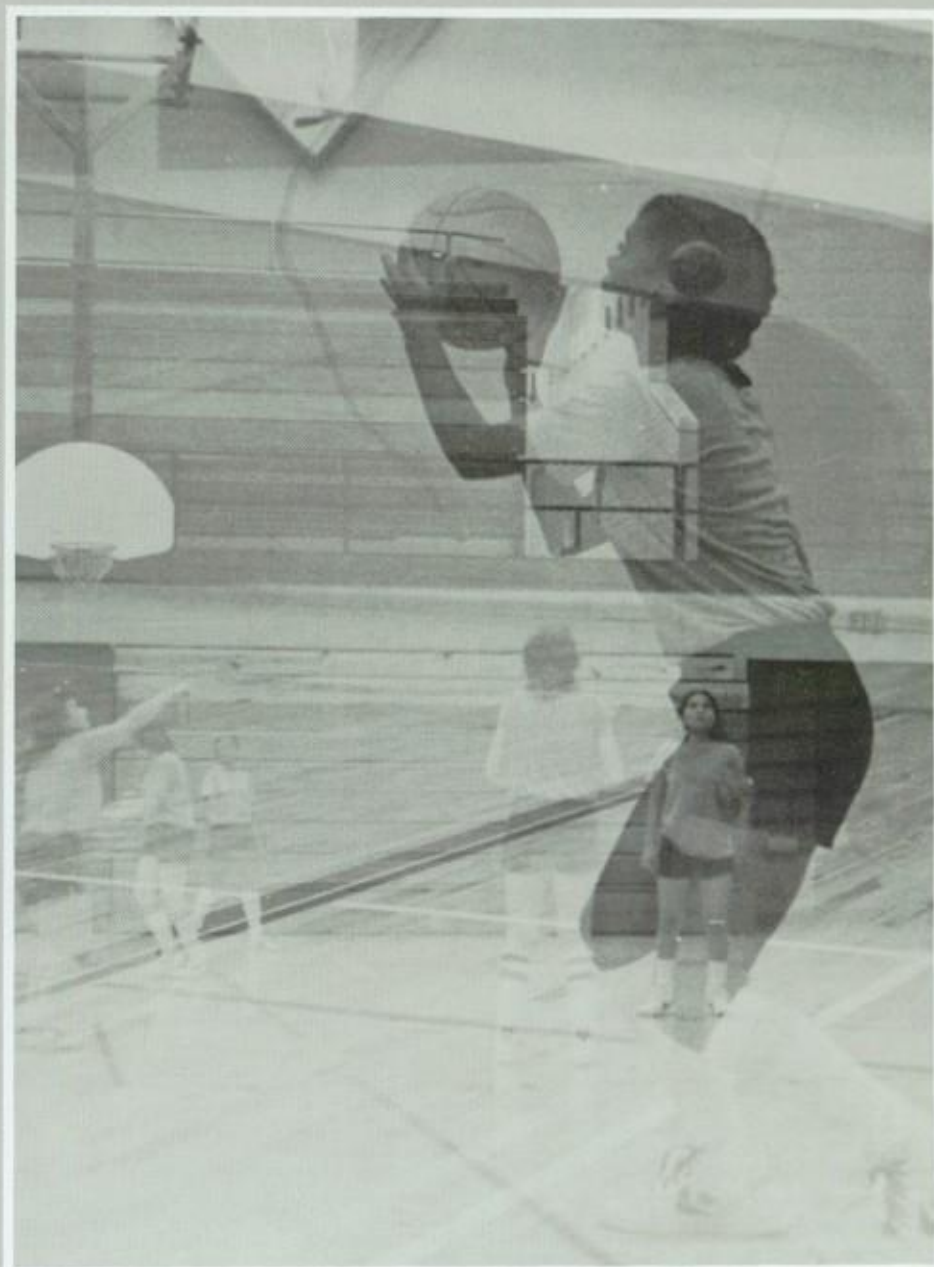

As the new head coach for the Girls Varsity Basketball Team, Mr. Mickelson felt that his main goal was to finish the season above 500. Although he had only two returning starters from last year, several players contributed to the success of the team. The starters were Lisa Smith, Lorrie Lucero, Lorraine Herrera, Candy Bernard, Traci Edgar, and Chris Pratt.

Good performances were put on by several of the substitutes; Patti Rocha, Veronica Montoya, and Flo Smith. After coaching the boys' J.V. for seven years, Coach Mickelson felt that the only major difference between the boys' and girls' team was that the girls' skill level was not as advanced. Throughout the 1982-83 season, the girls worked on many basic skills.

J.V. Girls Prove To Have Talent

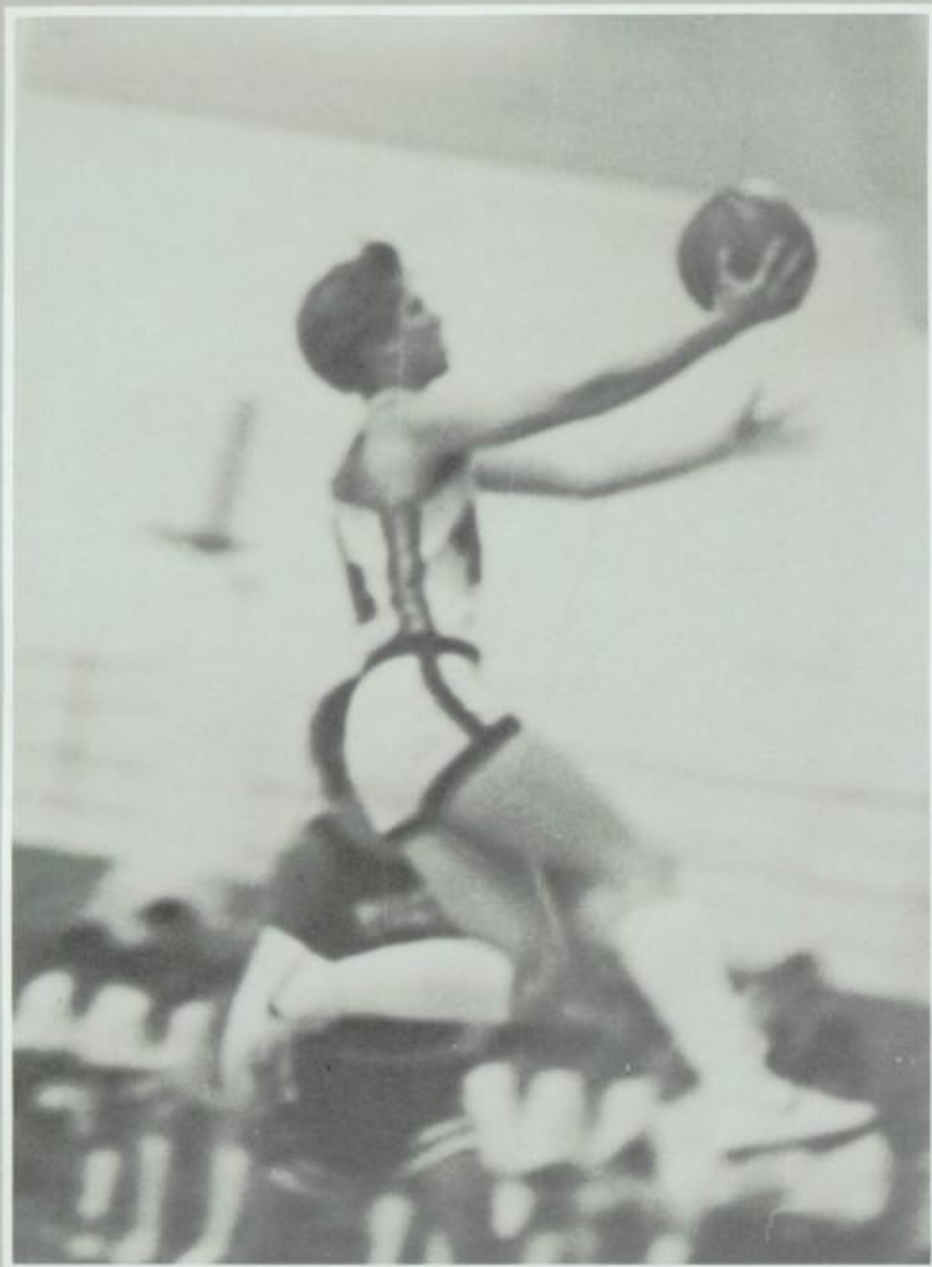

The J.V. Girls "had an excellent season." The team's hard work really paid off; their season ended with a 9-6 record.

The starting players this year were Lisa Conner, Chris Goldberg, Lee Richie, Toni Roberson and Eloisa Sanchez. Toni Roberson broke the individual record of 24 points to set a new high score of 30 points.

This was coach Monica Mayer's fourth and last season. Two of the highlights of the season were the two victories over Flagstaff High School, but the team felt they walked away with a lot more than that.

J.V. Boys have Awesome Season

This year's J.V. Basketball Team had a great season. Two of their impressive wins were against Flagstaff High and Winslow. They ended the season with a 13-2 record.

Four of the team's starters were Gary Weems, Alan Meacham, Booker Wooder, and John DeAngelis. Each of these players added to the success of the team and should do well next year on the varsity level.

Lady Spikers Net Success

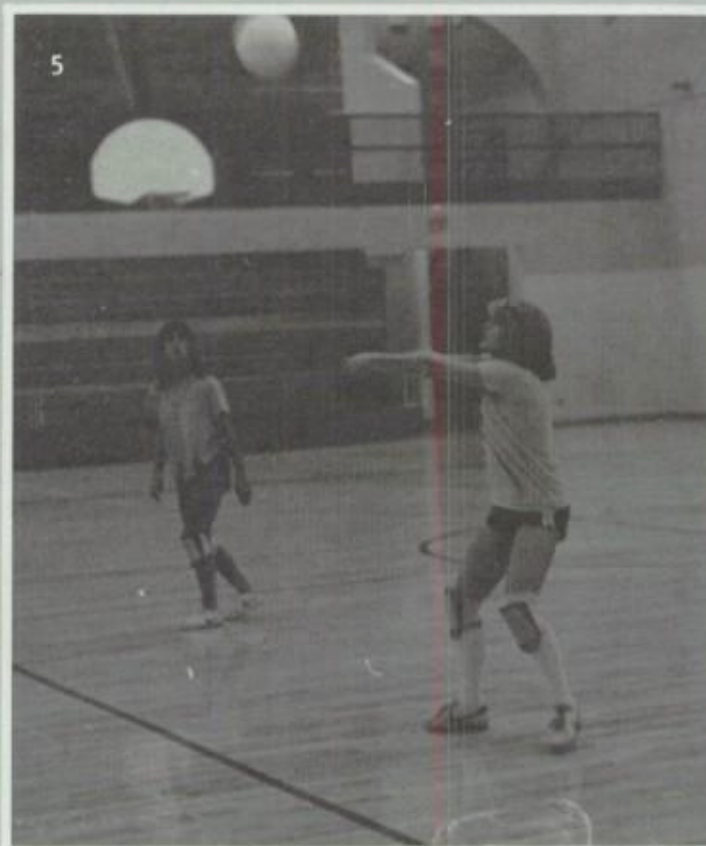

The 1982 Varsity Volleyball Team was highlighted by strong offense and steady experience. Their 3-7 conference record and 7-10 season record saw many grand and exciting games. CHS was never shut out by any other team, including two teams that ended up first and second in the state.

The fans also appreciated the improved play from such players as Co-Captains Lorraine Herrera and Lisa Smith and setters Flo Smith and Fran Marsteen. The home crowd showed enthusiastic support all season long.

1. Judy Begay gets ready for the serve.
2. Coach Wertz works wonders.
3. Lisa Smith comes to the teams defense.
4. Tracy Edgar, Lisa Smith and Veronica Montoya savour a victory.
5. Tracy Edgar launches one.

Wrestlers Take Down Opponents

The new head coach of the Panther Grapplers is Mr. Penney. He has been coaching wrestling for 17 years. Although there weren't too many returning wrestlers, Mr. Penney said that there was a very good turnout. He also said that the season was going better than could be expected.

This may take awhile.

If I weren't a Coconino wrestler, I'd be worried.

Grapplers await their bout.

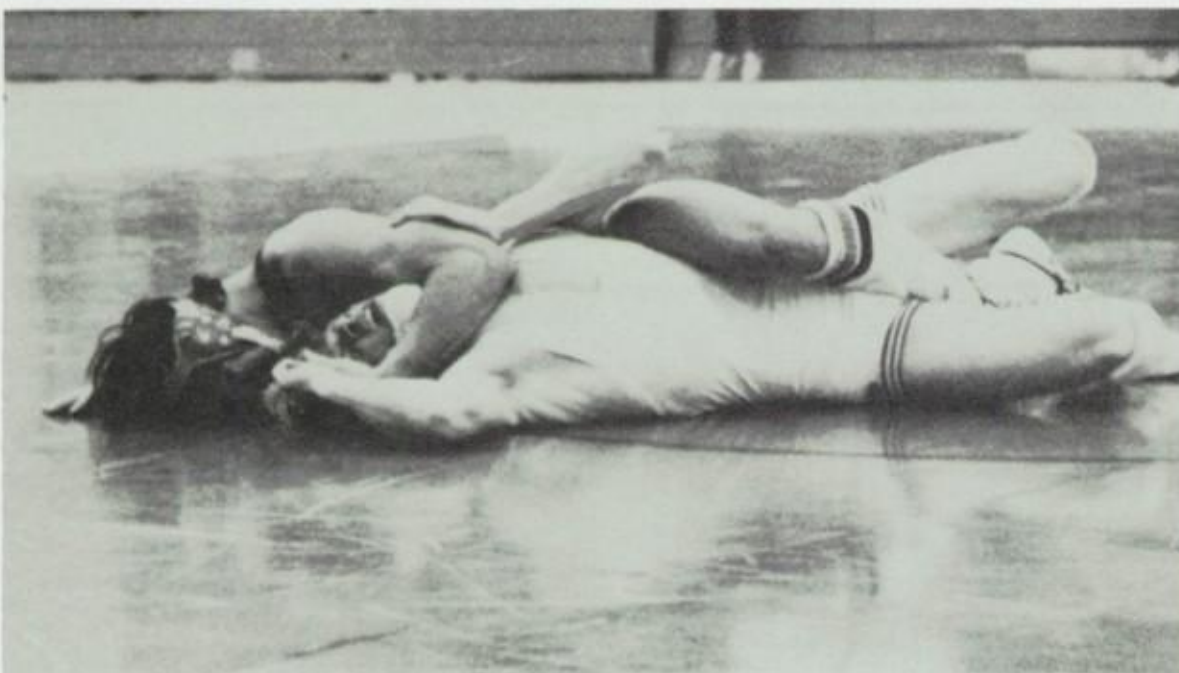

Alright, I'm mad now.

Wrestling coach Mr. Penny and Mr. Almquist.

Mike Dolby, Mark Sanchez, Chad Gill, Alex Acosta, Monty Fritz, Ryan Coons and Jesse Hatcher.

I got you now!

Sportsmanship does count!

... and still champion!

Action

J.V. practicing

"Lack of experience in the infield is probably our weak spot", said Coach Mickelson of his 1982-83 Panther squad. Although there aren't any returning starters at the infield positions, the Panthers will have an experienced pitching staff. The returning pitchers include Herrik Mandel who had a 4-3 record, Moody Pulido 1-0, and Bob Black 1-1.

Some of this years promising players are Mandel, Pulido, Black, Tom Gonzales, Donn Merrik, Dave Wachter, and Ryan Coons. All of whom, are returning players from last year. Coach Mickelson felt that the toughest opponents would be Winslow, Flagstaff, and Tuba City. As far as the Panthers are concerned, they are working hard and looking forward to a successful season.

J.V.

The J.V. baseball team had a good turnout this season. Although the team hadn't been outside except for on the parking lot, Coach Wertz felt that his team had the experience, pride, and enthusiasm to go out and win some games. Some of the promising players on the team are Anthony Ortiz, Aaron Windes, and Kelly Morris. Coach Wertz felt that Flag High would be the toughest team to beat, only because they have been in the past.

CHS Illustrated: Your Year In Sports

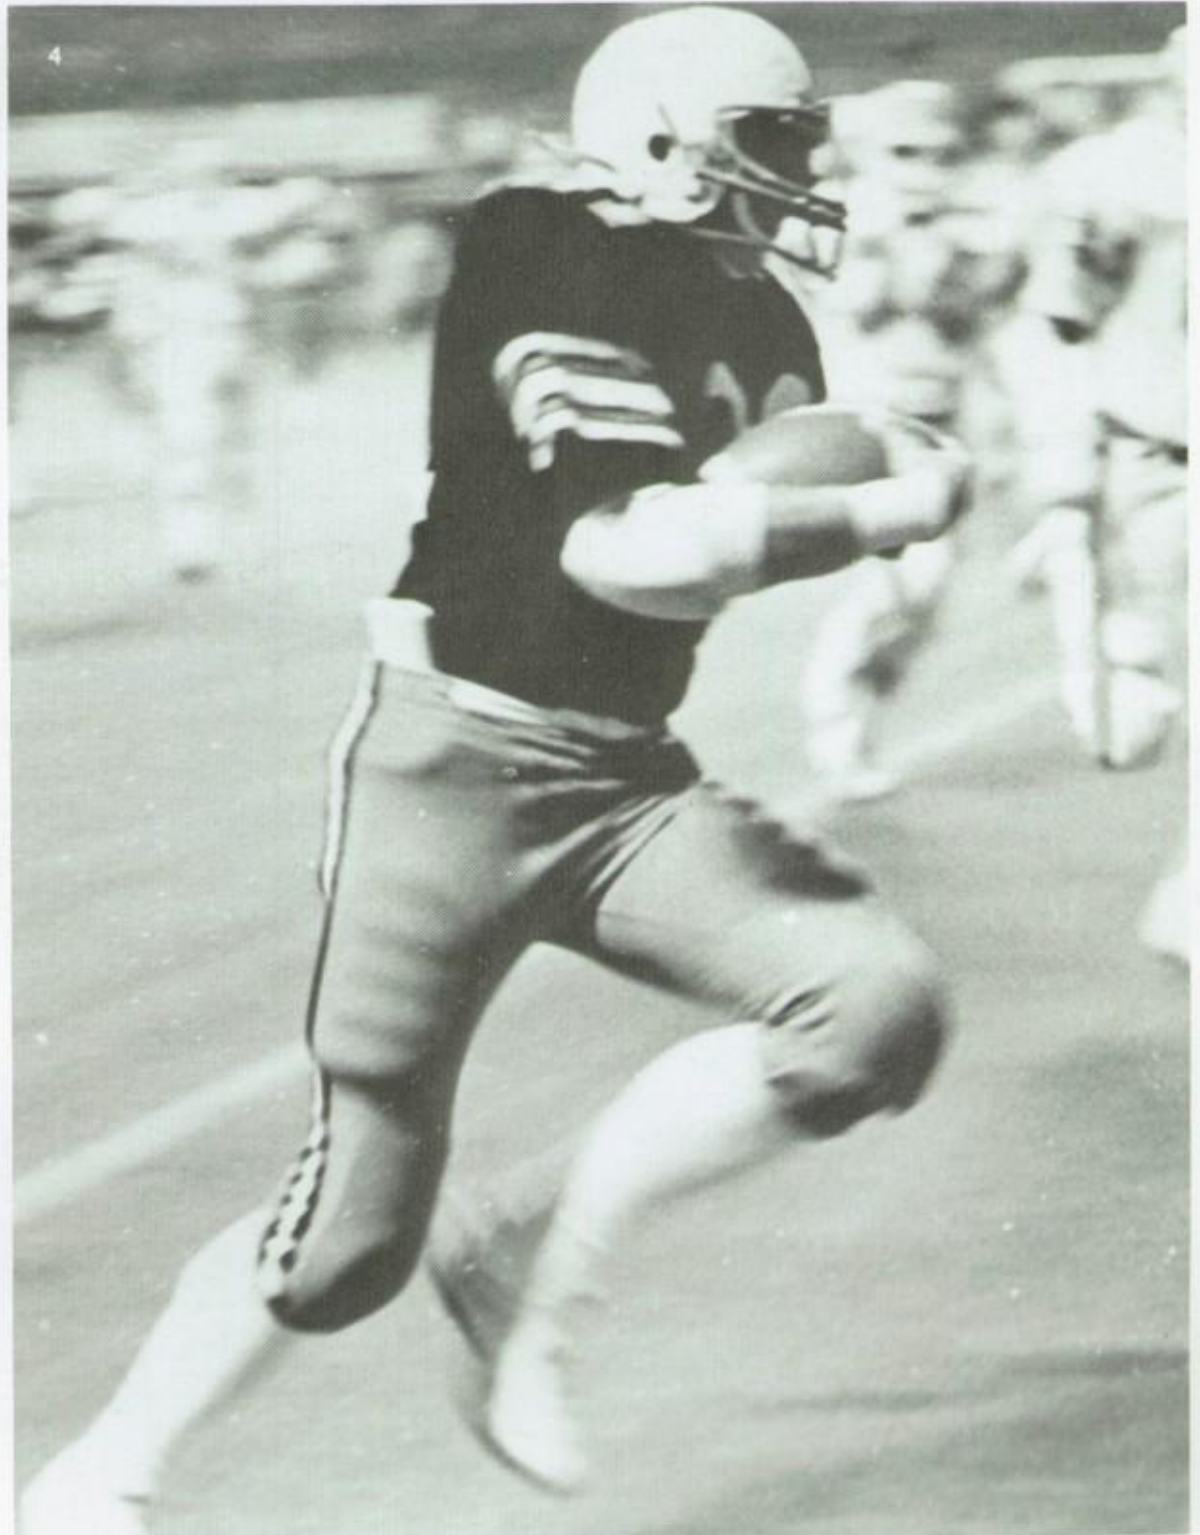

Coconino fans had plenty to cheer about this year. The football team finished the season with an 9-2 record. They beat Flagstaff 22-0 to become the AA North Conference Champions. They traveled to Dobson High in Phoenix to face undefeated Flowing Wells in the semi-finals, but were edged out 17-14. The Cross country team sent members to Phoenix to compete for State, and there were a few changes in coaching positions.

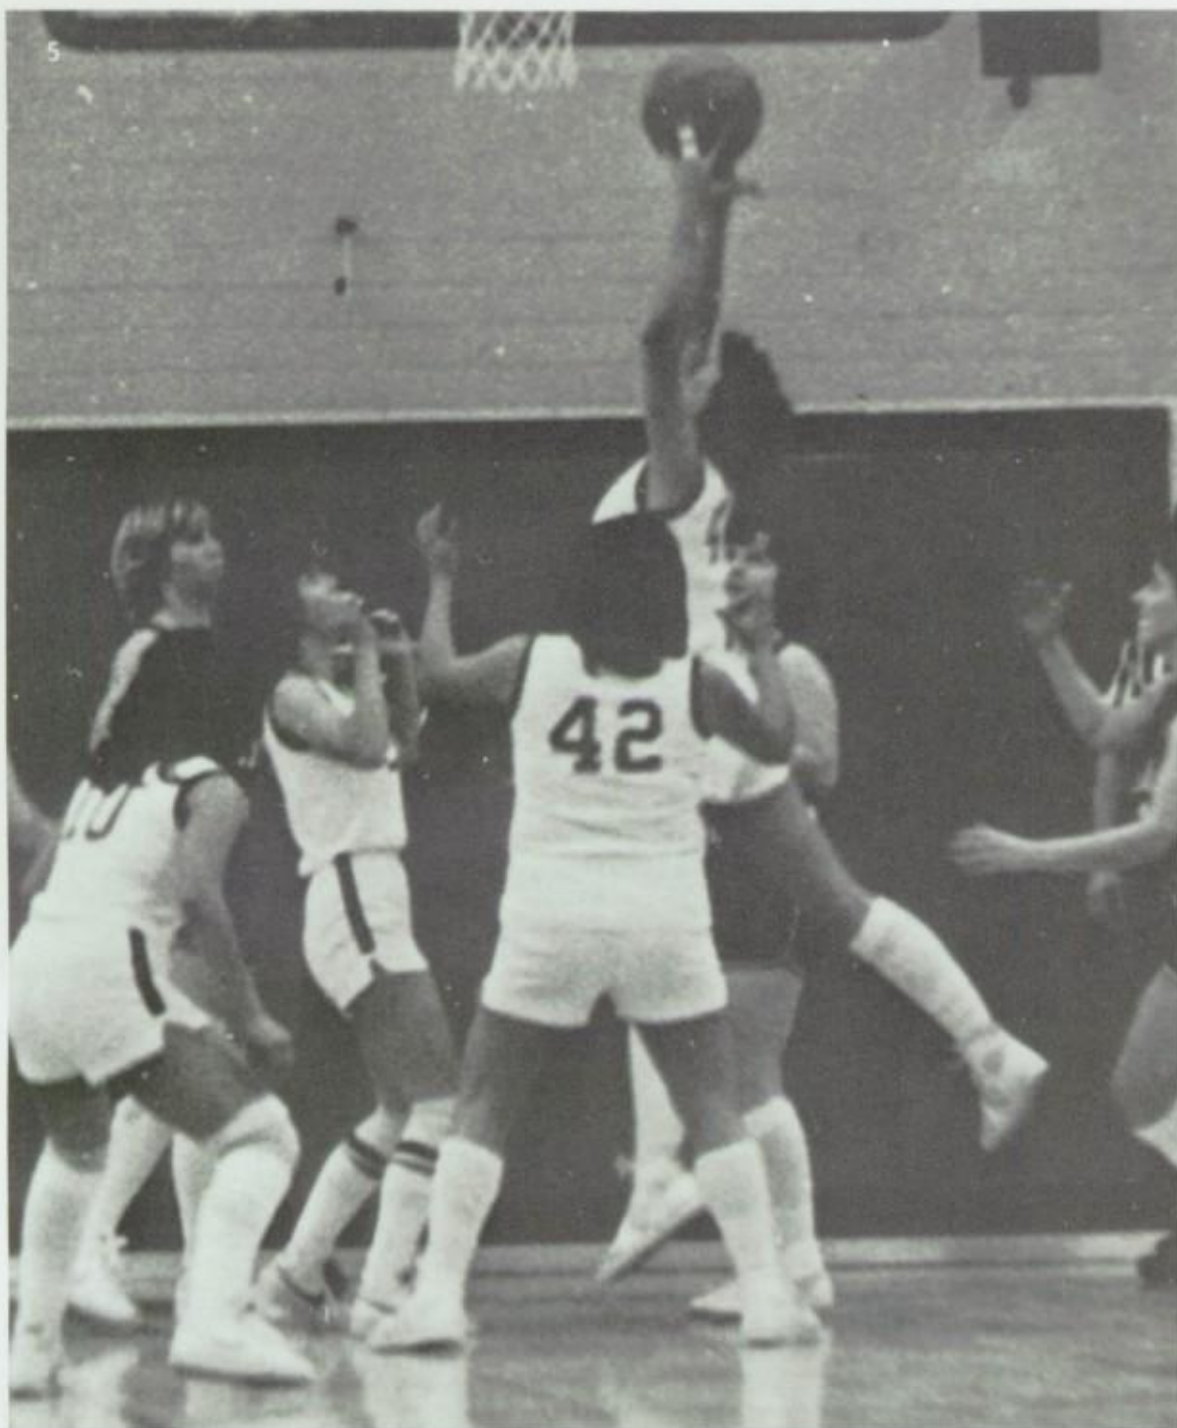

Mr. Collins took over the Junior Varsity Boys Basketball job after Mr. Mickelson became the Varsity Girls Basketball Coach. Mr. Penny became the new wrestling coach after Mr. Taylor left the building. Overall, it was a learning experience for the new coaches and the new teams.

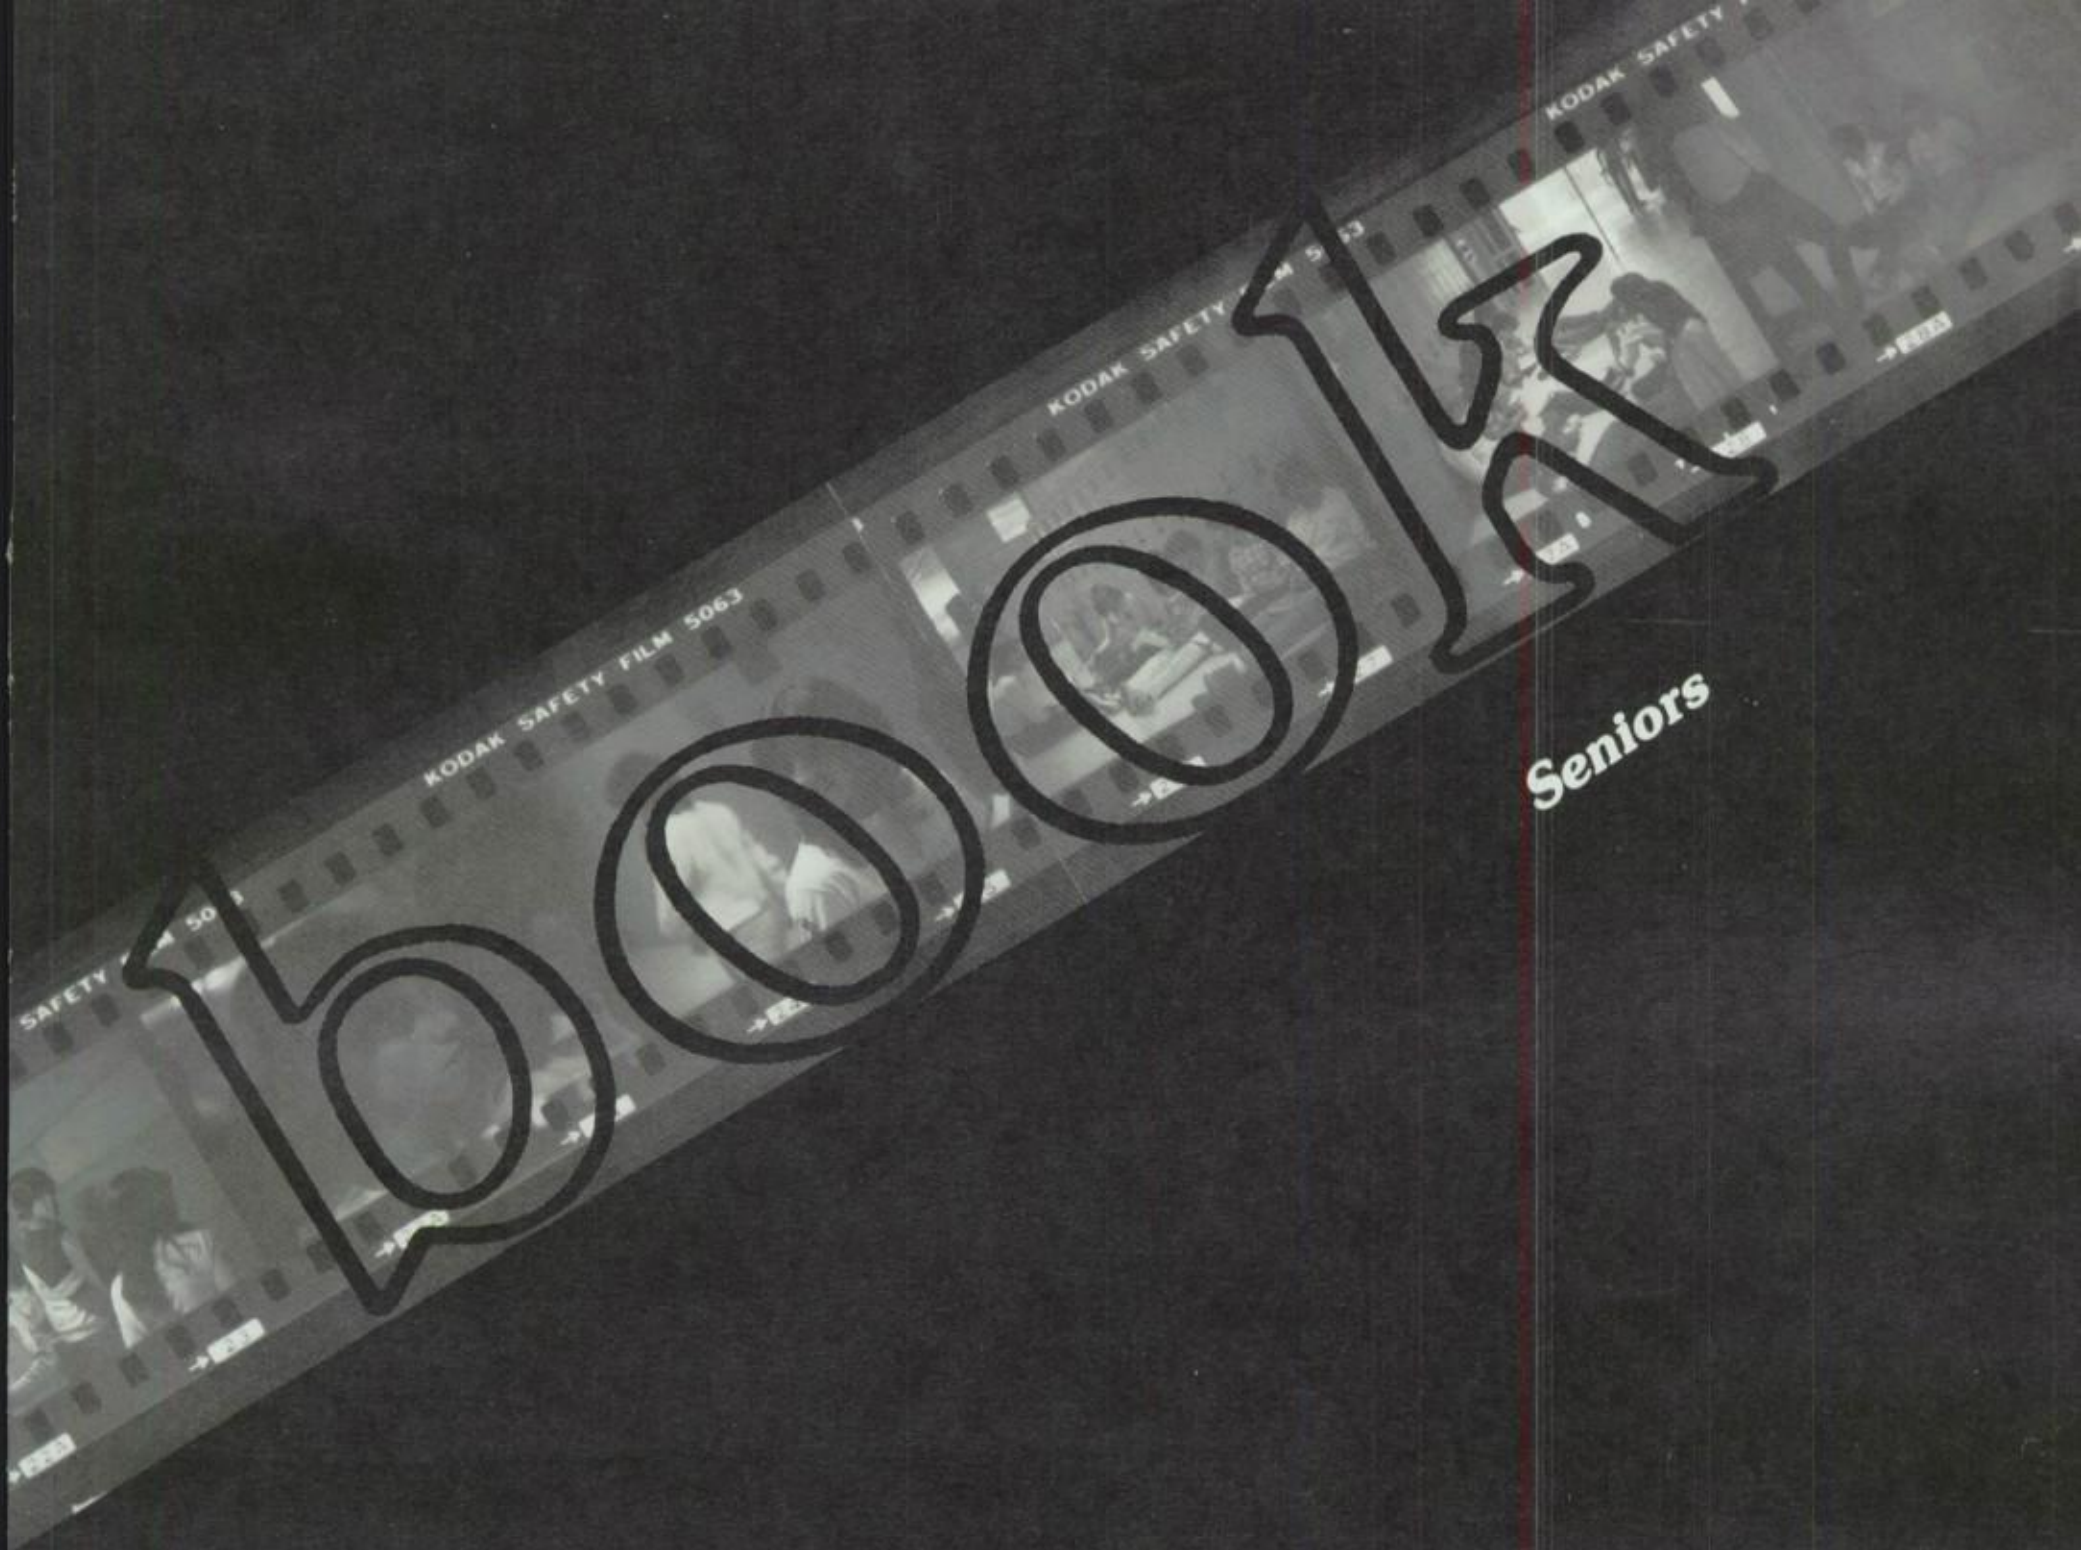

1. Football seniors are honored at one of their last games.
2. Bart and Mark demonstrate wrestling.
3. Pam Velut running hard for the cross country team.
4. Jay Cox drives for another big Panther game.

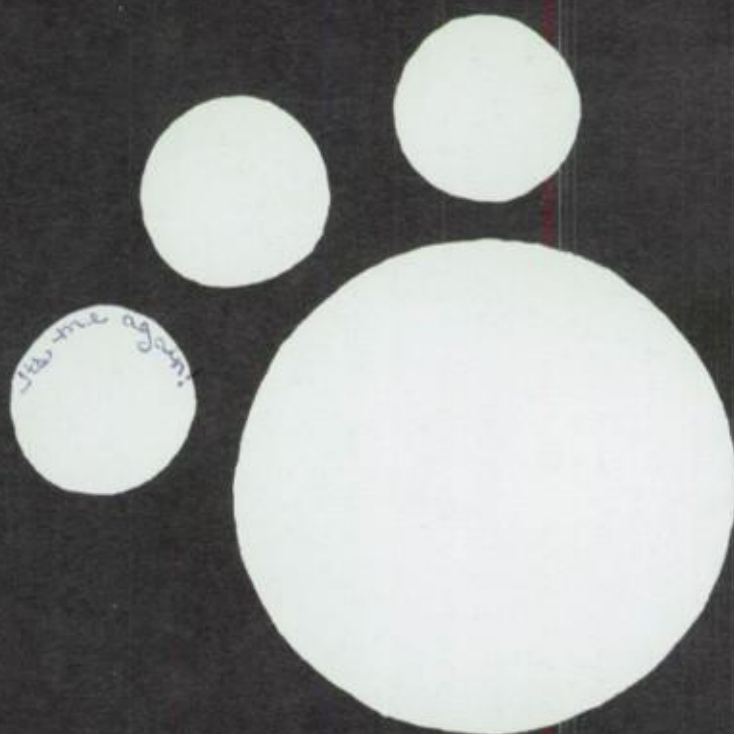

5. Girl Panthers go for the boards.
6. Judy Begay shows game strain.
7. Laurie Lucero attempts to block Donna Fisher.
8. Richard Garner grabs a Panther rebound.
9. Jeff steals a base.

Totally Awesome

"It's like totally awesome," "I'm so-o sure," "Barf me out," "That's like totally grody," "Like grody to the max," "Ohmi-gahd," "Gag me with a spoon," and "It's totally tubular," are just a few of the words you will hear from a Val. There are two types of Vals. One is a Valley Girl and the other is a Valley Dude. You can find both walking down the halls at Coconino High. There aren't too many of each, but the Val population in Flagstaff is growing. Vals wear anything that is "in" and they really love their social life. The best way to find a Val is listen to the way they talk. If you hear, "Oh fer sure. It was like totally tubular, but the food was like grody to the max. Like gag me with a spoon," you'll know you are listening to a Val!!

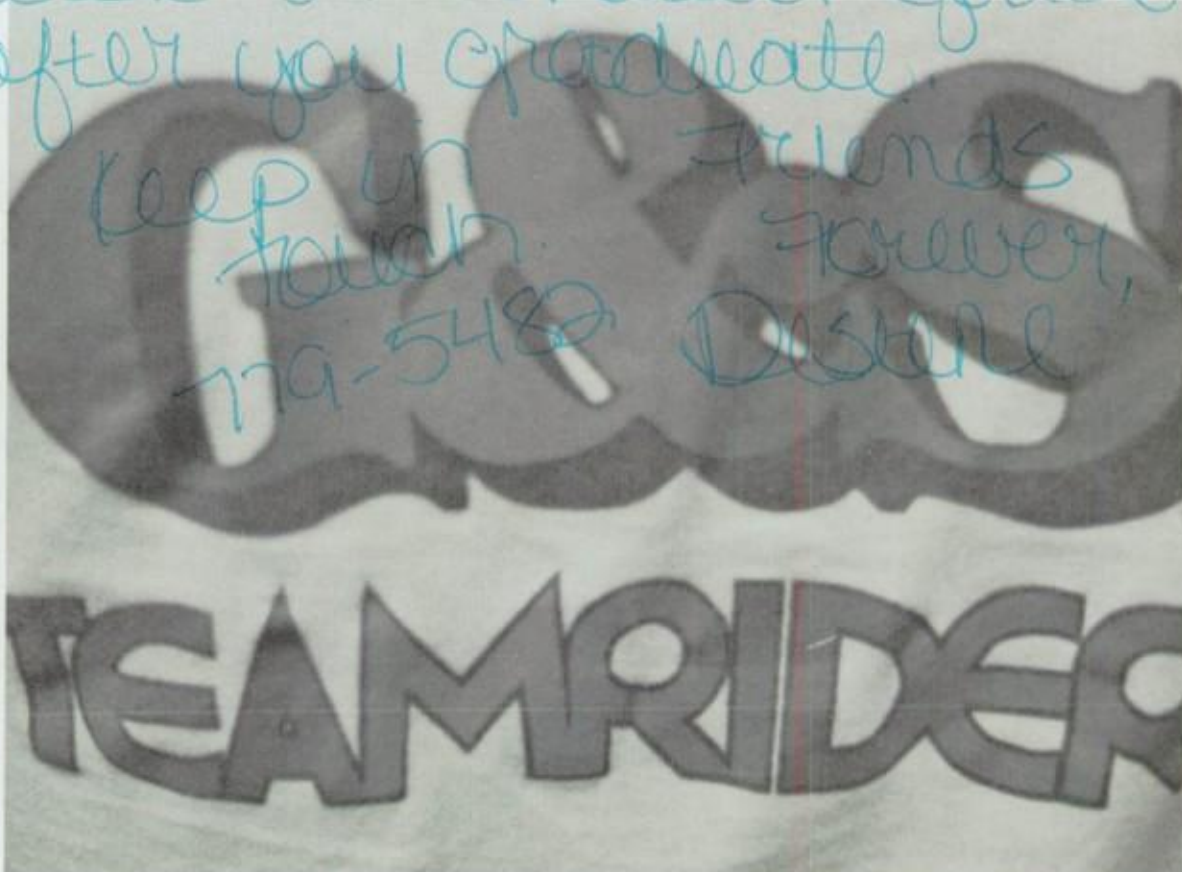

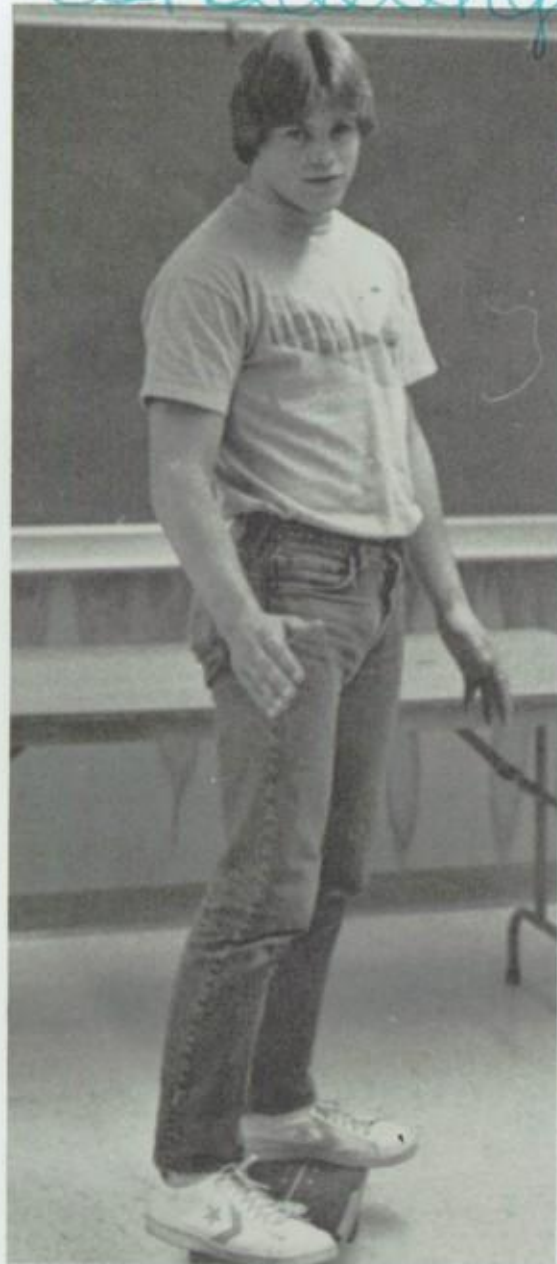

Paula,

I'm glad I got to know you real good. Considering we know you since I was in 7th grade. You have fun this summer. Stay sweet & pretty! Good luck in whatever you do after you graduate.

Keep in touch. Friends forever,
779-5482 Dorian

Being a sophomore has it's definite disadvantages. There is sophomore initiation, sophomore humiliation and the "typical sophomore" stereotype. Sophomores get to be low man on the totem pole which means sitting on the floor at pep assemblies, getting pushed around by juniors and seniors and eating lunch in the cafeteria. Sophomores experience lots of first like getting a permit, finding a job and learning how to beat the attendance office system through the trial-and-error method. Somehow they survive the torture in hopes of degrading the next sophomore class the same way.

AUGUST 10 Registration started off with a familiar looking group of seniors. Knowing the system as they do, they came few and far between. Most seniors who didn't show up saved their registration for the most inconvenient time possible; the first day of school . . .

AUGUST 23 The first day of school, but you wouldn't have guessed it. Students casually cruised the halls in their usual bewilderment. Sophomores nervously carried their full supply of books, pencils and other essentials around and arrived early to their classes to avoid embarrassment.

AUGUST 27 The first week of school had been slow and uneventful. Due to the rainy weather, many students found school to be a bit dreary. The adjustment period would be a difficult one after a summer of freedom and fun. Soon, though, there would be sophomore initiation . . .

AUGUST 30 It was almost occurring to students that it really was time to accept school as their temporary doom. It was time to behave like students; stampeding in the corridors, ditching and being rowdy were indicators that things would be normally chaotic. Teachers alike, were becoming fully aware of their doom . . .

SEPTEMBER 3 Spirits were high due to the anticipation of our first football game and pep assembly. The sizzle fizzled, though, when victory was handed to Snowflake with a final score of 8-6.

SEPTEMBER 7 The cold weather set in after a rainy Labor Day weekend. Sophomore initiation was off to a big start. Sophomores got their first taste of high school life. Many sophomores thought that it would be different, but not quite so "humiliating" . . .

SEPTEMBER 10 Our second game away to Peoria. After a hard loss to Snowflake the week before, everyone was ready for a win—and it was worth it. Panthers were working for state after their win of 17-0.

SEPTEMBER 13 After the busy week before, it was time for a rest. It was relatively calm and the halls were full of the fourth-week-of-school "blahs". Christmas was too far away to care about and school was habit. Students and faculty loitered in the halls hoping for a "Snow Day" soon to come.

SEPTEMBER 17 With the off-and-on weather of the past month, the clothing trends ranged from sandals and short sleeves, to sweaters and rain-shoes. No one was sure what to expect. After the game against Tuba (37-0), we celebrated with Hawaiian Luau style dance.

SEPTEMBER 20 Another Monday—when would they end? With over 30 of them left to go it was hard to get excited. Sales and sponsor sheets were getting an early start. Very few people would make it to their classes without buying something.

A Flagstaff citizen for more than a half-century

Our roots grow deep in Arizona. Especially in Flagstaff, where we have been a corporate citizen since 1924. During 1982, in excess of $4 million in payrolls will go to more than 500 people directly dependent on our Flagstaff sawmill and logging operations.

We're committed to long-term investments here. Constant improvements have given our sawmill the capacity to produce more than 70 million board feet of lumber a year. That's enough to build 5,000 typical single-family homes. And a $2 million logging camp is located 56 miles southeast of Flagstaff near Clints Well.

Flagstaff also is the headquarters for our wide-ranging timber harvesting operations which supply our Arizona and New Mexico sawmills with sawlogs and our Snowflake, Arizona paper mill with pulpwood and wood chips.

Yes, Flagstaff is important to us in many ways.

OCTOBER 1 The weekend, finally! The game against Page that evening recognized the parents of senior athletes and spirit squads. A Panther win of 24-14 kept things going for the outstanding football season.

OCTOBER 2 An NAU homecoming Parade was the center of attention on the streets of Flagstaff. The Coconino Band joined in the festivities, marching in the parade and pregame show.

OCTOBER 11 The beginning of Homecoming week brought in quite a few activities. Spirit days including cowboy day, logger day, grub day, sports day and a traditional red, white and black day, boosted the spirit of the week. Other festivities would include a pep assembly, an evening pep rally, hall decorating and a dance after the game.

OCTOBER 5 The Homecoming game against Window Rock, alumni coming through and a pep assembly were enough to keep everyone distracted. The half-time show during the game included the announcing of finalists of Homecoming Royalty: King and Queen, Jay Cox and Lorraine Herrera; Senior attendants, Tracy Edgar and Lanny Helberg; Junior attendants, Ellen Vega and Audie McKee; Sophomore attendants Alberta Kong and Kelly Morris. A worthwhile game for returning alumni with a final score of 50 to 10.

OCTOBER 18 After an exhausting week before hand, it was time to relax and be serious about school work.

OCTOBER 28 For the football team and many students, the evening proved to be full of anticipation for the big game against our FHS rivals.

OCTOBER 27 Weather conditions were fine, the weekend was here, but something was definitely unusual. Cars in the parking lot were decorated in red and black, students and faculty were feverish and the halls echoed with spirit — it could only mean one thing, facing our cross town rivals in the dome that night. Pranks to each school were numerous, as usual. The major concern, though, was for victory over the Eagles that night. For the first time in 14 years, Coconino shut out Flag High 22-0, "and there was much rejoicing ...".

OCTOBER 31 Happy Halloween!

NOVEMBER 1 The weather was getting terribly cold and typically, the heating system was awhack. Classrooms were cold without the heat; it looked like we were in for a long winter ...

NOVEMBER 4 An open house was held for those parents interested in meeting with their children's teachers and administrators. Parents visited classrooms and got a chance to see the school.

NOVEMBER 10 The first snowfall! It didn't seem like it was going to be much, but by early the next morning, Flagstaff had received seven inches of the white stuff.

NOVEMBER 12 A game against Flowing Wells ended Coconino's successful season with the score in favor of Flowing Wells, 17-14. A disappointment for the Panthers just one game away from the state championship.

NOVEMBER 18 A fairly eventful day. Students got a surprise when they went to lunch to discovered a juke box in the cafeteria. The day also marked the "Great American Smokeout". Pins from the American Cancer society stated, "Kiss me, I don't smoke" and were worn by interested students.

November 22 Thanksgiving vacation cut the week ahead short by two days, giving everyone Thursday and Friday off and extending the weekend.

November 25 Happy Thanksgiving!

December 1 The beginning of December brought with it a snow storm big enough to cancel school for the day. Snow drizzled up the streets making travel extremely limited. Nearly a foot of snow had fallen by the next day.

December 6 With Christmas vacation coming up, anxiety levels were higher than usual. Gift exchanging and goodie munching absorbed some of the anticipation. It seemed as though Christmas break would never come.

December 17 Not just an average Friday, this Friday marked two weeks of freedom from Coconino. An extended lunch, followed by a Choir assembly ended the day.

December 25 Merry Christmas!!

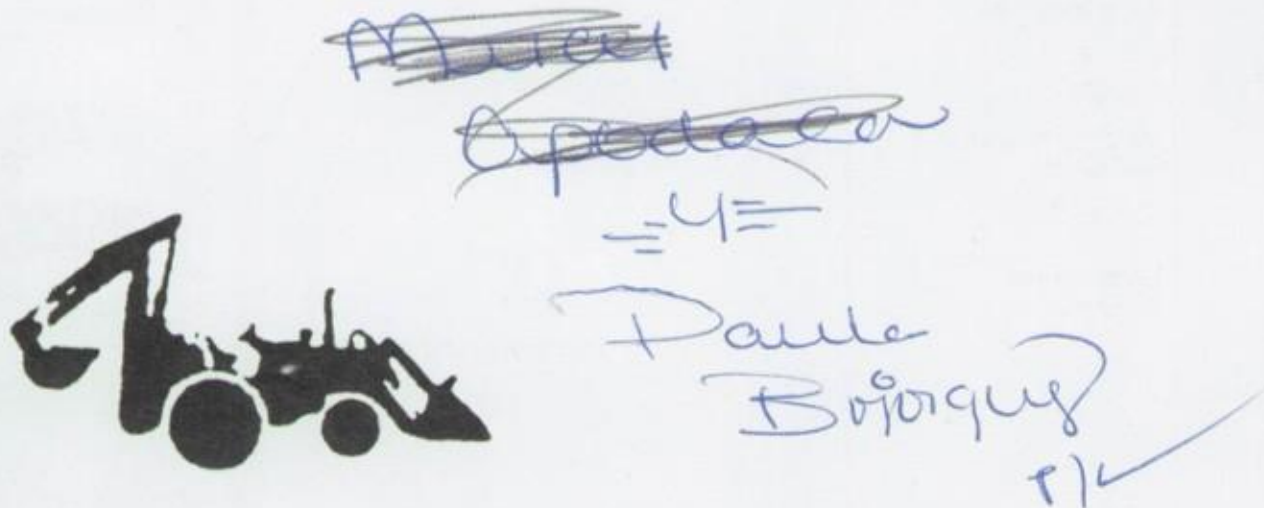

January 1 Happy New Year!

January 3 The pleasures of the holiday season had ended, and it was time to get serious about school work again. With only two weeks left in the semester, lots of last minute details were being taken care of and final exams were the stressed issues.

January 7 Coconino's first conference basketball game of the season ended up in an agonizing loss to the Tuba City Warriors.

January 13 The class schedule for the day was altered in order to allow time for finals in each class. Classes were lengthend to an hour-and-a-half, and only the first three hours were attend-ed. Friday finals were for the afternoon classes. A great sigh of relief was the overall feeling throughout the school.

January 16 With the beginning of the new semester, this particular Monday added confusion to the normal order of things. Mixed-up class schedules and schedule changes were part of the confusion.

JANUARY 19 With snow coming down in a blizzard fashion, students and faculty were optimistic for a school cancellation to break-up the week...

JANUARY 20 ...but it didn't work out that way. Flagstaff woke up to a sugar coated fantasy of approximately one-half inch of snow. The day was not a total loss, though, as a pep assembly for the soccer and basketball teams interrupted the general order of the day.

JANUARY 21 It's easy to get excited about a winning season—but what happens when your basketball team is having more of a rebuilding season? The varsity boy's game ended in a 76-55 defeat to the Flagstaff Eagles, but the J.V. Cats fared better, scoring an exciting 44-40 victory over the J.V. Eagles.

JANUARY 23 - A holiday many of us are not aware of—National Nothing Day. Perhaps not the most notable holiday of the year, but a realistic one anyway!

JANUARY 26 - All English classes were dedicated to the taking of the writing proficiency exam. All students are required to take and pass this test in order to graduate.

JANUARY 29 - Our second game against our cross-town rivals was canceled due to large amounts of snow. The game would be rescheduled for February 9.

FEBRUARY 3 - Possibly one of the busiest days of the school year. Due to icy roads, a snow day schedule was put into effect and it cut short our career day by a session. Students were limited to visiting two speakers from the list of many, but it seemed to go over well. Classes were then shortened for the snow day schedule and career day events, and at 1:30 p.m. a memorial assembly in honor of Mr. Miguel Alfaro was held in the auditorium. After the memorial, school was released for the funeral at St. Pius at 3:00 p.m.

FEBRUARY 4 - The snow was still falling and the announcement that school was cancelled was certainly good news-especially since it was Friday and it extended the weekend.

This Was Your Year

We all say our goodbyes in different ways. We say goodbye to the Seniors forever and wish them the best of luck. Close friends only need a short goodbye. Enemies on the other hand may become friends over the summer. It may last from one week or over the entire summer. Teachers will even be missed. Secrets between close friends will always be kept, along with all the memories shared at CHS.

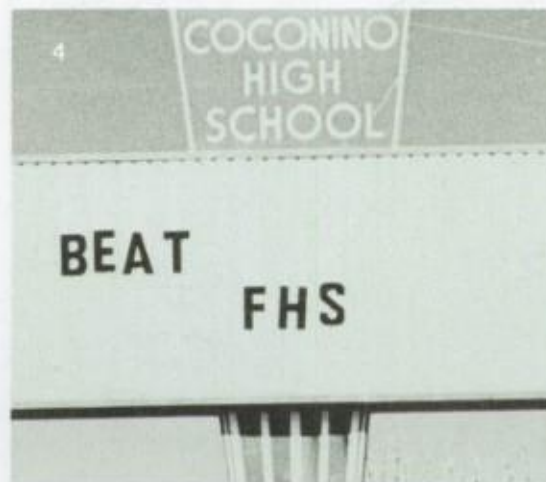

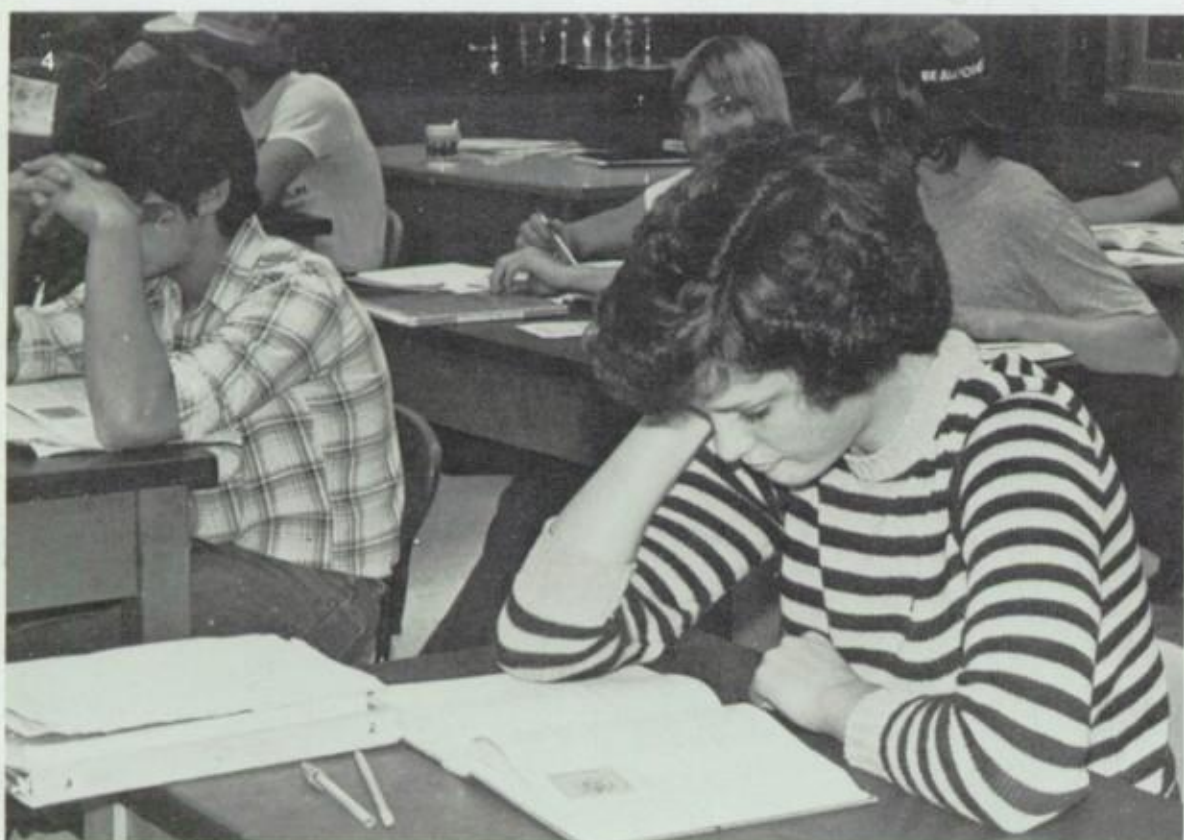

Paula,
 I missed having you this year & hope you had a good year.
 Lots of luck in the future
 & have a great summer.
 Take care.

Love ya,
 M. Olson

 The best!

Paula,
 This has been one crazy year,
 But listen here. You go out here and get what you want out of life then turn around and eat your heart out, I made it
 But you keepin' touch ya hear (526-0029)
 Best Wishes,
 Paula 1984

Finally, the closing page! I never thought we'd make it to see this day alive or sane. I speak for the entire staff when I say, "phuel" because there have been many grueling and frustrating hours spent in the production of this annual. I hope it is enjoyed as much as the work put in to it (afterall, it is "Yourbook").

In producing a yearbook (as anything else), mistakes are sometimes overlooked or neglected in the hustle of making deadlines. Apologies for misspelled names, incorrect grammar, missidentification, etc. They were by no means intentional.

As editor, I'm supposed to sign out the book with a meaningful message reflecting upon something-or-rather, but I don't believe in meaningful messages. I'd prefer to just say, may all the plane crashes and train derailments avoid your home. Have fun!

Signing out,

Laura Casebeer
 82-83 Editor

PAULA,
It was nice seeing you
in school again, About time you came back, good luck in the future. Your friend
Joe Weston

Well here we are - 7 days away from graduating. I can hardly wait to get out of here. I don't say that I've really liked school, I hate it really!! But I'm glad to have made so many friends. I'm going to miss seeing you after school is out, so try to keep in touch. Congrats on your little baby! Good luck in your "84" future & take care of yourself.

Paula it been nice goin to school with you and having you right next to my locker Hope to see you this summer
